

Careers Education Information and Guidance (CEIAG)

To our Year 11 and 13 Students

Here at Caldew we understand that it is a worrying time for young people, particularly those leaving in Year 11 and Year 13 this summer. Exams have been cancelled and there is still a lot of uncertainty about grades. We realise that a lot of young people and their parents will be worried and unsure about what the future holds.

There are various forms of help, information and advice out there and we would like to point you to them.

Top Tips

The following advice will hopefully help you with your future plans:

1. Assume nothing about your destinations and your next steps, take the time to find out about your future and be pro-active.
2. Continue to apply and maintain a dialogue with employers and training providers via email or social media.
3. Keep up to date with the current crisis by reading more and following companies and organisations and how they are responding to it all.
